

Press Release

For Immediate Release

Media Contact:
Marcie Glenn, CEO
206.241.8906 / Mobile: 206.650.8617
marcieg@anothersource.com

Small but fierce: Another Source, honored recipient, fourth year in a row,
"Best Company to Work For"

Seattle, Wash. – July 9, 2009– Another Source, an employment referral service serving the Puget Sound and the Bay Area, today announced it has been voted #10 Best Company to Work for in the Small Company Category, Seattle Business Monthly.

"This is a huge honor for Another Source," says Marcie Glenn, second generation CEO of Another Source. "It is key to our core values that our employees have a work/life balance and truly enjoy their time contributing to our corporate vision. We are only successful because of our team. We want them to love coming to work each day, knowing they are in a position to positively impact someone's job search process."

Finalists were determined based on each company's scores from their online employee surveys. Judges used the employee survey scores and corporate profiles, submitted by each company, to determine the final order of the list.

About Another Source

Another Source is an Employment Referral Service with corporate headquarters in Seattle, Washington. For 19 years, we have been revolutionizing recruiting, one subscription at a time. Another Source bridges the service gap between employment agencies and job boards by offering a unique subscription-based service that saves times, identifies talent, and creates choice. For more information about the company, visit www.anothersource.com, or call 206.241.8906.